DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This small, two story gable roofed house is at 112 Alice Anne Street in the Town of Bel Air, Harford County, Maryland. It greatly resembles a tenant farmer's house. It is a single pile house, two bays by one. Its windows are 6/6 double hung sash set in plain surrounds. The entrance is in the middle of the front (south) elevation. Its only ornament is a severely plain shed roofed porch with plain square posts.

It is not in very good condition but it is given a measure of dignity by its very neatness and by the well kept yard with shrubs and flowers.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This little house has thousands, even hundreds of thousands, of duplicates in town and country all over the east and middle west where wooden construction was cheap. Under the shingles one occasionally finds a log cabin. This is a frame structure. It is virtually undateable. It is just a single pile rectangular box with a porch. If it has any distinction it is the dignity with which it fulfills its station in life, duplicating, probably, the simple dignity of its succession of black inhabitants.
